and will be performed in fine style. GROVER'S THEATER .- " Edith and Zeldia, or the Old Tower of Charleswood." is announced for to-night; Miss Charlotte Thompson making her last appearance. GROVER'S THEATER-Pennsylvania avenue, mear Willard's Hotel-Last appearance of Miss Charlotte Thompson. Last evening Miss Charlotte Thompson fully justified the expectations entertained by auditors who looked for an in-tellectual feast. To say that this was realized would be to do her but faint justice. Description can give but a poor idea of the artistic skill displayed in Miss Thompson's rendition of Julia, in "The Hunchback." It was an effort worthy of that young lady's transcendent genius, and was duly appreciated by a discriminating audience. This evening is the last night of Miss Thomp-son, when the theater will be filled to repletion by the lady's hosts of friends. The entertainment selected for the occasion consists of a ne w play of great interest, written expressly for Miss Thompson by a young lady of London, England, and abounds with startling incidents and marvellous changes. This piece has been performed in the principal cities of the United States with universal success. It is entitled ed Edith and Zeldia," Miss Thompson performing two distinct characters; and her rapid changes from one to the other, both in costume and style, are said to excel everything of its kind ever attempted on the English stage. Monday evening, "Mazeppa."

GRAND AFFAIR.—On Wednesday, the 7th inst., Mr. W. O. Burgher, one of the Foremen of the Government wheelwright shops, was made the happy recipient of a magnificent Gold Hunting-cased Watch. The watch was presented by G. G. Reynolds, Esq., in behalf of his fellow workmen. Mr. Burgher's speech in reply was short and sweet. The purchase was made at the Jewelry store of H. O. Hood, No. 328 Penns. avenns. No. 338 Penna. avenue.
